Re: Jon Alin, et al. v. Honda Motor Company, Ltd., 2:08-cv-4825.

I would request that each of my documented air compressor failure replacement costs be reimbursed at the 60% level since each of the Honda Air Compressors, the original and replacement, lasted less than 60,000 miles. I may be an unfortunate minority of Honda CRV owners who had their compressors fail twice in 6 years. The second replacement compressor (not a Honda) has lasted 6 years without problems.

With respect, the logic of miles until failure works when there is only one failure, but in the event of two failures it is logical, in my opinion, to consider the mileage per air conditioner.

I paid $2971.11 for these air conditioner failures. I believe your settlement proposal is a appropriate for a single failure but not for sequential failures in one vehicle.

I have reviewed the settlement class definition and am by definition a member (VIN SHSRD78802U006344 purchase date 8/2/02), I do not intend to be present at the hearing either in person, nor through an attorney. I am simply asking that my situation be considered. I am not a lawyer and understand that my objection may not be considered because it is late.

Thank you. I actually am very happy with my Honda CRV, except for these failures.

CLAIM FORM INSTRUCTIONS

Compressor Damage is defined as damage to the compressor and associated air conditioning system parts of any vehicle that is part of the 2002 – 2004 Honda CR-V Sub-Class, which was caused as a result of the failure of the internal components of the compressor and/or the compressor clutch. Damage to the compressor from any other cause, such as front-end collisions, is NOT included in this definition.

If any CR-V Sub-Class Member sustained an out-of-pocket expense for Compressor Damage within the original 3-year/36,000-mile warranty that was not already covered under warranty, such expense shall be reimbursed pursuant to the terms of that warranty, notwithstanding that the CR-V Sub-Class Member did not originally pursue a warranty claim in the manner required by the warranty.

Honda will partially reimburse any out-of-pocket expense incurred by members of the CR-V Sub-Class to repair Compressor Damage where the repairs were or are performed for damage outside of the new vehicle warranty, but occurring within 8 years/96,000 miles from the date of purchase.

The specific reimbursement percentages for out-of-pocket expenses incurred by members of the CR-V Sub-Class to repair Compressor Damage are as follows:

- Year 3/36,000 miles – 100% reimbursement (original vehicle warranty)
- Year 4/48,000 miles – 80% reimbursement
- Year 5/60,000 miles – 60% reimbursement
- Year 6/72,000 miles – 30% reimbursement
- Year 7/84,000 miles – 15% reimbursement
- Year 8/96,000 miles – 15% reimbursement

These benefits expire at the earlier of the time or mileage thresholds.

Settlement class members must submit a claim form with supporting documentation in order to be reimbursed for Compressor Damage. The claim form must be returned to the Alin Litigation Settlement Administrator anytime between now and 90 days after the Effective Date of the settlement, as defined in the settlement agreement. You can monitor the settlement website at www.AlinLitigation.com to determine the final deadline for submitting claims, but the deadline will be no earlier than July 24, 2012.
